THE SPRING ELECTION!

In Bellefonte Republicans Make Gains.

COUNCIL IS REPUBLICAN

C. C. Shuey Wins Great Victory in Solid South--W. B. Rankin Defeats Barnhart for Borough Treasurer--J. K. Johnston and J D Love Winners.

A GREAT TRIBUTE TO GEN CURTIN.

The annual Spring election was held throughout Bellefonte and Centre county Tuesday and everything passed off very smoothly. In Bellefonte there was some very warm contests especially on Tax Collector, Overseer of the Poor and Councilmen. In the boro J. Kennedy Johnston Democrat for Tax Collector defeated his Republican opponent W. C. Cassidy; John D. Love had a splendid endorsement for Overseer of the Poor being re-elected by a handsome majority. W. B. Rankin, Republican, defeated James K. Barnhart, democrat, for Boro Treasurer, J. Thomas Mitchell, Republican, is re-elected Boro Auditor over Thomas J. Sexton, democrat.

In the different wards the republicans won one councilman, C. C. Shuey in the South Ward. C. Y. Wagner democrat, defeated G. E. Haupt, republican in the West Ward, and Thad Hamilton democrat, had one more vote for council than F. H. Thomas republican.

This will make the next council republican by a majority of one. The complexion of the school board will not be changed. W. Homer Criesman (Republican, John P. Harris Republican, and A. C. Mingle democrat are re-elected.

The Republicans can take a great deal of encouragement out of the result. They have gained control of council, also a boro treasurer and held their own in the other offices. It shows that if they put up clean men and pull together they can win every time. Bellefonte is slowly but surely swinging back into its Republican moorings.

The great vote given Gen. John I. Curtin for Burgess is a magnificent tribute to that splendid soldier coming as it did from both parties.

In Spring township Snyder Tate was re-elected Overseer of the Poor; John G. Dubbs was elected tax collector; Wm. Martin and Michael Kerstetter School Directors. They also voted on a change of system of Taxation for Road purposes. The question was "Shall the work tax for road purposes be abolished and a money tax substituted therefore? Those in favor of the work tax won out by a vote of 178 to 127.

The total vote in the boro with the majorities is as follows:

	N.	S.	W.	Total	Maj

DIVORCE LAWS!

A Congress to Have Same Made Uniform Now Meeting In Washington.

NATIONAL IN SCOPE

Pennsylvania Governor Chosen President of the body Which is Representative.

THE RESOLUTIONS INTRODUCED.

Washington, D C. Feb., 20th.—Governor Samuel W. Pennypacker, of Pennsylvania was chosen president of the congress on uniform divorce laws, which convened here on Monday. The congress was called by Governor Pennypacker last summer, the Pennsylvania state legislature having appropriated $10 00) to defray the expenses of the gathering. The membership is national in scope, all but three of the states of the union being represented. About one hundred delegates are in attendance. Following an address of welcome by District Commissioner McFarland, Governor Pennypacker outlined the object of the congress.

Amaea M. Eaton, Rhoade Island; C. Larue Munson, Pennsylvania; R. T. Barton, California, were elected vice presidents. William H. Staake, Pennsylvania, was elected secretary.

The resolution committee follows: Walter G. Smith, Pennsylvania chairman, F. L. Siddons, Washington, D. C.; George W. Williams, Georgia; J. F. Ailshie, Idaho; Thad M. Talcott, Indiana; Charles F. Libbey, Maine; Milton G. Urner, Maryland; Edwin A. Jaggard, Minnesota; Bishop Shanley, North Dakota; John R. Emery, New Jersey; E. W. Huffcut, New York; Ralph W. Breckinridge, Virginia; Bishop Thomas F. Gailor, Tennessee; John G. Pollard, Virginia; Otto J. Kraemer, Oregon; I. N. Gillett, California, and G. W. Case, South Dakota.

The congress decided that votes shall be taken by states rather than by individual delegates.

A resolution was adopted appointing committee to draw up a uniform marriage license.

The Pennsylvania delegation introduced a set of resolutions, embodying their idea of a uniform divorce law. These resolutions, which were referred to a committee, express the sense of the congress that no federal divorce law is feasible, that each state should adopt legislation restricting the remedies afforded by its statutes of divorce to its own citizens, except under certain conditions, that when the courts are given cognizance of suits where either of the parties were domiciled in a foreign jurisdiction at the time, the cause of complaint arose, it should be insisted that, except in cases of adultery, or in the case of a wife returning to her original domicile, relief will not be given unless the cause of divorce was included among those recognized in such foreign domicile; that as long a term as possible be fixed as a period of residence before the right to sue can be acquired and suggesting that the Massachusetts rule of three years is not too extreme a limit, classifying into certain groups causes for divorce, that desertion should not be a cause for divorce unless persisted in for at least two years; that a power of attorney be essential to an appearance by the attorney for either party; that a decree should not be granted a vinculo matrimony for insanity arising after marriage and that a final decree dissolving the marriage tie so completely as to permit the remarriage of either party should not be entered until the lapse of a reasonable time after a decree nisi after hearing or trial upon the merits of the cause.

The delegates called on President Roosevelt Monday afternoon, being introduced by Governor Pennypacker. The president wished them good speed in their work. He made, however, no formal remarks.

—York, Pa. Feb. 20.—Lockjaw, caused by a small splinter of a cornstalk, has caused the death of Howard Ehrhart, of Springfield township: The cornstalk pierced his hand about ten days ago, and his jaw became locked while he was attending market, one week ago.

CAN THE DRINK HABIT BE CURED?

The Republican has Made Arrangements Whereby Three Persons Can be Cured of the Liquor Habit Free of all Charges.

PROMINENT MEN INTERESTED

After an exhaustive search through the dockets of the Justices of peace and a careful following up of the cases these recorded the Editor of the Republican have become convinced that at least ninety per cent. of the crimes and misdoings of the residents of this County are due primarily to the use of intoxicating liquors. This may seem to be an astounding and greatly exaggerated statement but thorough investigation will not only bear it out but will reveal still further conditions of a deplorable nature. Cure the drink evil and crimes will cease to a very large extent. Can the drink habit be cured?

There are so many opinions on this vital and important subject; in which our community is interested, that we have given very much consideration to the matter and having heard much about a certain wonderful cure, which is endorsed by very many eminent men we have decided to give for the benefit of our resders and in hope of reaching some unfortunate men, a test here in Bellefonte. We have made arrangements with the Oppenheimer Institute of New York, to give three (3) free test cures to the poor worthy men who desire to be cured. Applicants names will not be made public and they have only to take a little harmless medicine at the office of the resident physician.

They can apply for information to any of the Citizens' Advisory Committee, and they will select three of the most worthy applicants.

That the cause and movement is a most worthy and reliable one, is shown by the fact that the following well-known men, after a careful investigation of the company and its methods, have consented to act as the Citizens' Advisory Committee.

Hon. W. Harrison Walker, Chairman.
Rev. A. M. Schmidt.

"I. O. O. F."

On the 13th inst, Spring Mills Independent Order of Odd Fellows second degree team, accompanied by many others of their lodge, went to Millheim upon invitation of the lodge in that place, and conferred second degree for them. The work done by them was of the very best yet given at Millheim. Although Spring Mills lodge is quite young, they use team and floor work in conferring all degrees and do the best work in their section. Their members are enthusiastic in all lodge work and their lodge is building up quite rapidly and doing a good work in the community. Young men cannot do better than to associate themselves with such an order as this.

Father Against Son.

Altoona, Pa., Feb. 17.—Charged with cracking the safe and robbing the post-office at Juniata, December 6, 1904, Herman Reed, aged 22, was held for court at Pittsburg in $1,000 bail. His own father testified against him, swearing that he found three money oriers in his son's room and that Herman did not come home until 6 a. m., the night of the robbery. About $75 worth of stamps and $70 worth of money orders and cash were seured.

Geo. Gates was arrested as a pal of Reed's, but there was no evidence against him and he was discharged.

Won the Bet, But Lost his Life.

Corapolis, Pa., Feb. 20th.—Joseph Margo bet his brotber $1 that he could drink a quart of whiskey in three minutes. The brother doubted, the quart was procured, Joseph drained its contents in three gulps, looked at his watch and found he had won the bet by 60 seconds. Then his face began to twitch, he grew limp, suddenly collapsed and became unconscious. A doctor was summoned, but could do nothing for him, and in half an hour from the time he took the first drink he was dead, never regaining consciousness.

Merrimac Bell Gone.

Philadelphia, Feb. 19.—Grand Army circles in this city are stirred over the theft of the bell which summoned to action the Confederates on board the Merrimac in the engagement with the Monitor at Hampton Roads. It was the property of Colonel William Carey post, No. 18, G. A. R., and was taken from the Merrimac before she sank by one of the post's members.

THE INDIA FRAUDS

In Connection With Affairs of Civilized Tribes.

STARTLING REPORT.

Indictments Against Certain Men For Illegal Practices Will Not Be Quashed, But Investigation Will Be Thorough

FOUR DEAD IN POWDER EXPLOSION.

Washington, Feb. 19.—President Roosevelt has taken personal interest in the charges of fraud and corruption which are said to have occurred in connection with the affairs of the five civilized tribes in the indian Territory. But for his interference indictment against several parties alleged to have been engaged in illegal practices would have been quashed. Now, however, under his orders the Interior Department pushing its investigations with increased vigor, and it is reliably stated that in the near future a number of new indictment will be reported against not only several men already indicted but they will also include a number of persons whose names have not heretofore been brought into the cases, including a high government official in Washington.

When it became known to the President that the District Attorney for Indian Territory had been instructed to quash some indictments already found, he immediately sent orders countermanding this proposed action. He was led to do this by information received by him that after March 1 when the tribal relations of the five civilized tribes cease, certain facts would be put into his possession which would strengthen the hands of the government in its efforts to bring to trial a number of persons guilty of gross frauds perpetrated against the Indians.

It is known that Secretary Hitchcock has submitted to the President and to Attorney General Moody a special report dealing with the whole subject, which it is said, gives such details as to make it imperative for the government to act. For obvious reasons the report for the present at least will not be made public but Secretary Hitchcock characterized the disclosure it makes as "startling."

TERRIBLE EXPLOSION.

Wilkes-Barre, Feb. 19.—A terrific explosion occurred at or about midnight Saturday night in the Buttonwood mine, operated by the Parrish Coal company, in Hanover township about two miles from this city, the news of which did not reach here until an early hour Sunday morning. The explosion caused the death of four men.

It occurred in a small structure known as a timberman's shanty located along the gangway a short distance from the foot of the shaft. In this shanty was stored a lot of giant powder and this exploded. A number of company hands were at work on Saturday night in the mine and it is thought they went to the shanty to rest and get warm, at the same time eating lunch. The supposition is that the heat from the steam pipes became too intense and finally ignited the powder and exploded it.

The four men were in the centre of the concussion and were tossed about like feathers in a windstorm. Three of the men met instant death and their bodies were mutilated and dismembered in a most ghastly manner. The fourth man, Anthony Shulrun, died a few hours later at the City hospital. His head was crushed and several ribs were broken.

Sends Son to Jail.

In order, we he alleges, to prevent his 19 year old son, Frank Alta, of Wilkesbarre, running away with the wife of a convicted murderer, who was sent to the penitentiary recently for twenty years, the boy's father Thursday night charged him with larceny and had him committed to jail. He says he will keep him there, despite the disgrace, until he is cured of his infatuation. The woman is 19 years old and handsome. The two ran away several days ago, but the police and the boy's father captured them at Scranton. Finding that the boy would not give up the woman, the father then decided on the extreme measure of jailing him.

THE CASHIER'S SCHEME.

How Counterfeit Money Saved a Bank From Insolvency.

"Speaking of runs on banks," said the veteran story teller, "reminds me of a story I once heard of a bank that was on the verge of going through when a clever scheme of the cashier saved it from utter ruin. And the best of the whole thing was that in saving the bank the cashier floated a big issue of counterfeit money, and the deception was never found out. Here is how the thing occurred. Some of the bank directors and some of the officers had been dabbling in stocks. The crash came, and when it did some of the bank's officials got their fingers jammed. It looked to be all up with the bank. The run began and it seemed as if the old bank would have to close its doors forever. It happened that the cashier had a brother who was a secret service man. This brother had led a raid on a counterfeiters' den several days before, and had secured several thousands of dollars' worth of paper money, which represented some of the most beautiful counterfeits ever seen in that territory. He had placed in the bank box used by himself and brother this money, which he was holding as evidence. The cashier thought of this, and brought it into play. Figuring that all the depositors who had large amounts of money in the bank would return it to the institution after the rush was over, he paid all the claims of the big depositors with this class of money, keeping a record of those to whom counterfeit money was given. The bills were of large denomination. No one tried to change any of them. This money saved the day, and the run on the bank ceased when it was seen that all depositors were being paid. When it was all over the cashier went up to the men to whom he had paid counterfeit money and succeeded in getting them to again become depositors. In that way he succeeded in again getting possession of all of the issue, and within a week had restored every one of the big counterfeit bills to its place in his and his brother's bank box. Only the president, vice president and cashier of this bank ever learned of the manner in which the institution was saved."

Harrington—Smith

Edward Harrington, who for a number of years has been the chief tinner at the J. H. Turnbach Hardware Co's. establishment, was married Thursday evening to Miss Emma Smith, daughter of Mrs. B. Smith, of Pine street, Philipsburg Pa. The ceremoney took place at St. Peter and Paul's rectory, Rev. Father Kumerant officiating.

The bride is a very estimable young lady, well and favorably known in Bellefonte where she has frequently visited at the home of her sister, Mrs. Dominick Judge, while the groom is too well known to need any eulogy at our hands. The happy couple departed on a brief honeymoon to Hazleton, where Mr. Harrington's parents reside. They have the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

Louder—Kline.

A wedding was celebrated at the Presbyterian parsonage, at Lemont, Wednesday evening of last week, when Elmer Louder, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel B. Louder, of Oak Hall, and Miss Florence Kline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Kline, of Linden Hall, were married by the pastor, Rev. W. K. Harnish. The young couple were attended by Miss Catharine Kline, a sister of the bride, as bridesmaid and William Runkle as best man. Mr. and Mrs. Louder left Thursday morning for a brief honeymoon trip east. In the spring they will go to farming on the Louder farm at Oak Hall.

Bellefonte Thieves Working Over Time

For some time merchants and others of this place have been annoyed by a gang of thieves. From the character of the thievery there is no question but what the thieves belong in town. One evening recently they entered the robe room at the Episcopal church and took quite a number of articles that belonged to the members of the choir. They made quite a big haul. Among the things taken was John Bullock's derby hat, and in order that he could get home he was compelled to borrow one from the pastor the Rev. George Israel Browne. Budd Harper found that a pair of new kid gloves were gone and a number of other articles. When he reached his home he found that his pocketbook had also been stolen, together with its contents, a considerable amount of money. They also took a number of valuables from some of the other members of the choir. This was kept very quiet until a few days ago with the idea of running down the burglars.

MANAGING HUSBANDS.

Some Eighteenth Century Ideas on This Interesting Subject.

Most quaint is some of the advice to women contained in an old book published in 1737. The volume describes itself as "an infallible Guide to the Fair Sex, containing Rules, Directions, and Observations for their Conduct and Behaviour through all Ages and Circumstances of life; as Virgins, Wives, or Widows, with Directions how to obtain all Useful and Fashionable Accomplishments suitable to the Sex." If the lady's husband was choleric she was told how to secure her own way by dexterously "yielding everything till he begins to cool, and then by slow degrees she may rise and gain upon the Man," or "when other Remedies are too weak, a little Flattery may be admitted, which, by being necessary, will cease to be criminal." With a covetous husband, pride, ambition, vanity, anger; kindness or even a dose of wine may be expected "to open or enlarge his narrow Mind." "The wife's business must be to watch for critical moments, and not let one of them slip without making her advantage of it." And a wife may be said "to want skill if by these means she is not able to secure herself in Good Measure against the inconveniences this scurvy Quality in her husband might bring upon her." All the frailties of poor, erring husbands are here set forth, singly, in plain, unmistakable language, neatly docketed, each with the recipe for cure appended thereto.

There are other interesting passages in the same book. Of spinsters the author says: "An old maid is now thought such a curse as no poetic fury can exceed, looked on as the most calamitous creature in nature. Modesty and Obedience, though necessary to all, are yet in a more eminent degree required here. Their Look, their Speech, their whole Behaviour should own a humble distrust of themselves." Concerning amusements this: "The reading of Romances seems now to be thought the peculiar and only becoming Study of young Ladies. It must be confessed their Youth may a little adapt it to them when they were children, and we wish they were always in their event as harmless."

Of another vanity: "There is also another great devourer of Time—we mean Dressing. Sure 'tis allowable upon a soberer account that those who design Marriage should give themselves the advantage of decent Ornaments and not by the negligent Rudeness of their Dress bely Nature and render themselves less amiable than she has made them. But, all this being granted, 'twill by no means justify that excessive Curiosity and Solicitude, that Expense of Time and Money, too, which is more used."

A Damaged Mirror.

To repair a damaged mirror pour upon a sheet of tinfoil about three drams of quicksilver to the square foot of foil. Rub smartly with a piece of buckskin until the foil becomes brilliant. Lay the glass upon a flat table face downward. Place the foil upon the damaged portion of the glass, lay a sheet of paper over the foil and place upon it a block of wood or a piece of marble with a perfectly flat surface; put upon it sufficient weight to press it down tightly; let it remain in this position a few hours. The foil will adhere to the glass.

Cause for Fear.

Second (to duelist, who on confronting his adversary has suddenly grown pale and is only just prevented from falling)—Take courage, man. I know your opponent is going to fire in the air. Duelist—That's just what makes me afraid. He's such a notoriously bad shot.

THE DANGER TO THE CHILD

May be real or the snake may be a harmless one, but there is danger that menaces every child's life if the mother is deficient in womanly health and functional vitality.

Thousands of women have borne their sufferings and kept their troubles to themselves from motives of delicacy and feeble childhood has paid for it.

Dr. Pierce, forty years ago, consulted Nature, and found that she had provided remedies in abundance for the cure of woman's peculiar ailments and weaknesses. He found that non-alcoholic glyceric extracts of Golden Seal root, Blue Cohosh root, Unicorn root, Black Cohosh root and Lady's Slipper root, combined in just the right proportions, gave such surprising results that this compound soon became a standard favorite of his in the treatment of such cases. In a little time the demand for it became so great that he determined to put it up and provide for its general sale so that the multitudes needing it could readily supply themselves.

This is now known all over the civilized world as Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, and its unparalleled record of hundreds of thousands of cures, in the last forty years, justifies all that can be said of it.

It is non-alcoholic, non-narcotic. It is safe and reliable for any woman, of any age and in any condition, to use.

Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets—only one or two a day will regulate and cleanse and invigorate a foul, bad Stomach, torpid Liver, or sluggish Bowels.

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser will be sent free, paper-bound, for 21 one-cent stamps, or cloth-bound for 31 stamps. Over 1000 pages and illustrated. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

ODORS IN THERAPEUTICS.

Perfumes and Their Use In the Practice of Medicine.

Odors, whether agreeable or disagreeable, are not causes of disease in the sense generally taken. They may disorder certain healthy functions by impairing nervous energy, by diminishing wholesome respiration and thus creating a predisposition to attack by disease.

Severe faintness is sometimes observed to overcome persons upon their entrance into a room in which tuberoses are kept. Headache is often produced by the odors emanating from the honeysuckle, lily, rose of Sharon or carnation. The odor of betony in flower is said to have caused intoxication in those who gather it. The making of linseed decoctions and the triturating of roses, pinks, walnuts or colocynth are often accompanied by attacks of syncope.

Attempts have been made to utilize odors in therapeutics. The odors of vanilla and heliotrope are credited with possessing a soothing influence over persons subjected to attacks of nervousness. The use of toilet water in the form of a spray will often restore those exhausted with the cares of business, social or domestic duties. In the east the use of perfume is considered a purifier, though we look upon it merely as a luxury. It is asserted that those who are employed in laboratories where perfumes are made or among growing flowers are healthy to an extent exceeding those not so employed.—Medical Record.

MUSIC'S MIGHTY REALM.

In It There Is but a Single and Universal Speech.

"In the mighty realm of music there is but one single speech." Music forms the universal language which, when all other languages were confounded, the confusion of Babel left unconfounded. The white man and the black man, the red man and the yellow man, can sing together, however difficult they may find it to be to talk to each other. And both sexes and all ages may thus express their emotions simultaneously, for in virtue of the power of the ear to distinguish side by side those differing but concordant notes which make up harmony there is not only room, but demand, for all the qualities of voice which childhood, adolescence, maturity and old age supply. Thus a love of music is much more frequent than a love of painting or sculpture, and you will reach the hearts and touch the feelings of the majority of mankind more quickly by singing them a song than by showing them a picture. In truth, the sensitiveness of the ear to melody and to harmony is so great that we not only seek to gratify it when bent upon recreation, but even in the midst of the hardest labor we gratify it if we can.—London Catholic Times.

Queer Little Blunders.

From an account of the Doncaster (England) Art club's annual exhibition in the Doncaster Gazette: "Miss —— also goes in for portraiture. In hitting off her father's head her intentions are good, but the execution lacks very much in artistic finish."

In the London Mail's description of a parade in honor of the king of the Hellenes the reporter said: "The soldiers, clad only in their scarlet tunics, presented an unpleasant contrast with the warmly clad members of the police force."

From the windows of a British tailor: "We have cleared a Scotch merchant's remains of high class overcoatings at a big reduction."

Not a Born Forger.

The indorsement of checks is a very simple thing, but, as the following story will show, it, too, has its difficulties:

A woman went into a bank where she had several times presented checks drawn to Mrs. Lucy B. Smith. This time the check was made to the order of Mrs. M. J. Smith—M. J. were her husband's initials. She explained this to the paying teller and asked what she should do.

"Oh, that is all right," he said. "Just indorse it as it is written there."

She took the check and, after much hesitation, said, "I don't think I can make an M like that."

FOOLING A GREAT DOCTOR.

The Trick the Belgians Played on Sir Morell Mackenzie.

The Belgians once succeeded in getting cut rates on an operation from Sir Morell Mackenzie. He engaged to attend a case at Antwerp. When he landed he was met by three men in mourning, who informed him, according to the Reader Magazine, that the patient had died, but that they would pay his full fee.

"And now," said the man, "since you are here, what do you say to visiting the city hospital and giving a clinic for the benefit of our local surgeons? It is not often they have an opportunity of benefiting by such science as yours."

Sir Morell said he would gladly comply. He went to the hospital and performed many operations, among which were two of a similar nature to that for which he had been called over. When he finished, all thanked him profusely. On the steamer going home he met a friend who had a business house in Antwerp.

"Pretty scurvy trick they played on you, Sir Morell."

"What do you mean?" asked the surgeon.

"Told you the patient died before you arrived, didn't they?"

"Yes."

"Lied. You operated on him and a friend with the same trouble at the clinic. Got two operations for one price!"

A Joke That Failed Twice.

Miss Adelbert had just returned from a vacation spent at a tiny village on the Maine coast. In recounting her experiences she talked somewhat for the benefit of a cousin, a quiet person, who was visiting her city relatives for the first time in many years.

"There was just one store in the place," said Miss Adelbert, "and they kept everything—that is, everything they had to keep. One day I went in to buy some soap, and just on a venture I asked the clerk if they had Browning. He stared at me a second, then went off and looked under the counters and on the shelves. Presently he came back and said: 'No, miss, we ain't got none. We got blacking, an' we got bluing, an' we got whiting, but we ain't got a bit o' browning in the store.'"

Miss Adelbert had to make several protests to assure her audience that this really happened. Finally the cousin asked gravely, "But, Cousin Bert, why didn't you say varnish in the first place?"—Youth's Companion.

The First Fiction.

The "Tale of Two Brothers," written 3,200 years ago by the Theban scribe, Ennana, librarian of the palace to King Merenptah, the supposed Pharaoh of the Exodus, is the oldest work of fiction extant. The tale was written apparently for the entertainment of the crown prince, who subsequently reigned as Seti II. His name appears in two places on the manuscript—probably the only surviving autograph signatures of an Egyptian king. This piece of antique fiction, written on nineteen sheets of papyrus in a bold hieratic hand, was purchased in Italy by Mme. d'Orbiney, who sold it in 1857 to the authorities of the British museum, where it is now known as the D'Orbiney papyrus. Other specimens of ancient Egyptian fiction have since come to light which appear to prove that the Nile valley was not only the birthplace of the arts and sciences, but was also the cradle of romance.

English Names.

Puzzling enough to an American is the English fashion of spelling a name one way and pronouncing it in quite another, but the cities are even worse than the individuals, since they deliberately adopt some alias. The town of Hull, for instance, is Kingston-on-Hull. It has no official recognition as anything else, yet as Hull it is known to nine out of ten, who would wonder if Kingston-on-Hull was near the town of Hull should they hear it mentioned. Even supposedly respectable cathedral towns are not above hiding identity, and to call New Sarum "Salisbury" is to give it its alias. The royal town of Windsor is really New Windsor, and the county of Hampshire, popularly shortened to Hants, is in reality the county of Southampton. Bradford-by-the-Sea is more correctly Morecambe, but rightly Poulton le Sands, while Bridlington, sometimes called Burlington, is more popularly Wakefield-by-the-Sea.

Consumption

¶ There is no specific for consumption. Fresh air, exercise, nourishing food and Scott's Emulsion will come pretty near curing it, if there is anything to build on. Millions of people throughout the world are living and in good health on one lung.

¶ From time immemorial the doctors prescribed cod liver oil for consumption. Of course the patient could not take it in its old form, hence it did very little good. They can take and tolerate it for a long time. There is no oil, not excepting butter, so easily digested and absorbed by the system as cod liver oil in the form of Scott's Emulsion, and that is the reason it is so helpful in consumption where its use must be continuous.

¶ We will send you a sample free.

¶ Be sure that this picture in the form of a label is on the wrapper of every bottle of Emulsion you buy.

KEEP THE KIDNYS WELL.

Health is Worth Saving, and Some People Know How to Save. It.

Many Bellefonte people take their lives in their hands by neglecting the kidneys when they know these organs need help. Sick kidneys are responsible for a vast amount of suffering and ill-health, but there is no need to suffer nor to remain in danger when all diseases and aches and pains due to weak kidneys can be quickly and permanently cured by the use of Doan's Kidney Pills.

W. R. Camp, of the firm of Kirk-Camp Furniture Co., Logan Ave. and 14th St., Tyrone, Pa., says: "Experience has taught me that Doan's Kidney Pills is an excellent remedy and one that strictly fulfills its promises. In the fall of 1897 I gave for publication in our local papers a statement covering my experience with this remedy and recommending it to others, and now in the month of June, 1904, I just as enthusiastically recommend it as I did at that time. Doan's kidney pills completely relieved me of an aching in the small of my back and lameness through the loins due to kidney trouble. We always keep this preparation in the house for use in case of need, and it has never failed to give splendid satisfaction. I heartily endorse it.

A GOOD NIGHT'S REST

"Speak for it!" she cried to doggie,
For she knew in her little heart,
That German Syrup, home's great treasure,
Could health and joy impart.

The greatest tonic on earth is a good night's rest. Restless nights and the terrible exhaustion of a hacking cough are dread dangers of the poor consumptive. But why this fear of the night when a few doses of Dr. Boschee's German Syrup will insure refreshing sleep, entirely free from cough or night sweat? Free expectoration in the morning is made certain by taking German Syrup.

We know by the experience of over thirty-five years that one 75-cent bottle of German Syrup will speedily relieve or cure the worst coughs, colds, bronchial or lung troubles—and that, even in bad cases of consumption, one large bottle of German Syrup will work wonders. Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

THE DEVIL'S CODE.

Legend of a Monk, Satan and a Quick Night's Work.

Stockholm's public library contains a wonderful work which is called "The Devil's Code" and which, in addition to its extraordinary name, is said to be the biggest manuscript in the world. Every letter is most beautifully drawn, and the magnitude of the work is so great that it seems impossible for any single monk to have done it.

The story of the origin of the manuscript, however, not only gives it as the work of one man, but also states it to be the work of a single night. The story runs as follows:

"A poor monk had been condemned to death, but was told mockingly by his judges that if he was able to copy the whole 'Code' between darkness and dawn he would be saved. Relying upon the impossibility of the task, those who sentenced him furnished him with the original copy of the 'Code,' with pen, ink and parchment, and left him.

"Death must have been as little liked in the middle ages as it is now, for the monk, forgetting the hopelessness of his task, commenced it. Before long, however, he saw that he could not save his own life by such weak exertions, and, fearing a cruel and horrible death, he invoked the aid of the prince of darkness, promising to surrender his soul if he were assisted in the task.

"The devil kindly obliged by appearing on the spot, accepted the contract and sat down to the work, and next morning 'The Devil's Code' was finished, the monk being found dead. The copying clerk from the infernal regions presumably fled away with the poor man's soul as soon as the wicked compact was finished." — Pearson's Weekly.

Embarrassing.

A New York judge, speaking of a mistake that had been made, said: "It might have been embarrassing—as embarrassing as the position of a young man of Toledo whom I heard about the other day. He had been calling now and then on a young lady, and one night as he sat in the parlor waiting for her to come down her mother entered the room instead and asked him in a very grave, stern way what his intentions were. He turned very red and was about to stammer some incoherent reply when suddenly the young lady called down from the head of the stairs, 'Mamma, mamma, that is not the one!'"

Remembered the Text.

A little Topeka girl came home from church the other day and was asked what the minister's text was. "I know it all right," she asserted. "Well, repeat it," her questioner demanded. "Don't be afraid and I will get you a bedquilt," was the astonishing answer. Investigation proved that the central thought of the sermon had been, "Fear not, and I will send you a comforter."—Kansas City Journal.

Killed On Steps of Car.

Philadelphia, Jan. 30.—Ralph Heetner, aged 29 years, whose home is in Englewood, a suburb of Chicago, was killed on the steps of a parlor car attached to a New York express train here, while his wife sat in the car. Mr. and Mrs. Heetner had been in this city about three weeks and started for New York. The train made a brief stop at the West Philadelphia station, and Heetner stepped to the station platform to greet a friend. As the train started he attempted to board the vestibule car, but the doors were closed. As he stood on the lower step, grasping the hand rail, his head came in contact with an abutting bridge support and his skull was crushed.

THE AMBER HARVEST.

Work of the Waders and the Divers of the Baltic Sea.

The poor people who earn a precarious livelihood by gathering amber on the shores of the Baltic sea work only in the roughest weather. When the wind blows in from the sea, as it often does with terrific violence, the bowlders are tossed and tumbled at the bottom and great quantities of sea wrack are washed up on the beach. This is the harvest of the waders, for hidden in the roots and branches of the seaweed lumps of the precious gum may be found.

In other parts of the coast divers go crawling on the bottom of the sea for the lumps of amber hidden in seaweed and under rocks. It is believed that once a great pine forest flourished here where the great billows roll and that amber is the gum exuded from the trees, of which not a vestige remains.

The finds are very variable. The largest piece known, weighing eighteen pounds, is in the Royal museum in Berlin. The usual finds range from lumps as big as a man's head to particles like grains of sand. The larger pieces are found jammed in rocks or in tangles of marine vegetation. Divers work from four to five hours a day in all seasons, except when the sea is blocked with ice. The work is so arduous that they are bathed in perspiration even in the coldest weather. For all their grinding toil the Samland natives are happy in their way and increase and multiply as in more favored regions of the earth.

"Home, Sweet Home."

"Home, Sweet Home," Payne's song, was originally a number in the opera "Clari, the Maid of Milan," a production brought out in 1823. The opera was a failure, and nothing is now known of it save the one song, which became instantly popular. Over 100,000 copies were sold in the first year of its publication, and the sale in one form or another has been constant ever since the first appearance of this beautiful theme. The melody is a Sicilian folk song and was adapted to the words by Payne himself.

Sixty weeks for $1.75.

The new subscriber to The Youth's Companion for 1906 who at once sends the subscription price $1.75, will receive free all the remaining issues of the paper for 1905. These issues will contain nearly 50 complete stories, besides the opening chapters of Grace S. Richmond's serial "The Churchills' Latch-String," a sequel to her story of "The Second Violin," which appeared in the early weeks of the year. Madame Sembrich will contribute an article on "Sovereigns I Have Sung To," and there will be three stories by May Roberts Clark under the title "Tales of a Pawnee Hero."

These will give a foretaste of the good things in store for 1906, full illustrated Announcement of which will be sent to any address free with sample copies of the paper.

America's Newspaper Habit.

Foreigners who visit this country for travel invariably notice the prevalence of the newspaper reading in public conveyances, waiting rooms and refectories. Foreign correspondents and writers on the United States may vary in many particulars but none ever fails to comment on the familiar spectacle of the man reading the newspaper. Unquestionably, Americans, more than any other people, are addicted to the study of daily journals and a question arises as to the meaning and tendencies of the strongly developed trait. This country has led the way in cheap newspapers of high character, though Europe has taken the hint and works in the same direction.

Americans occupy in so many respects a material primacy in the world's affairs that a newspaper to them is what the contents of a bag of despatches is to a diplomatist. Every American is a political sovereign and may aspire to the highest official place. Generally, he is even more of a business man in his panoramic survey of active affairs. Is he interested in commerce, mining, agriculture, or any of the myriad forms of industry? The newspaper gives him the latest intelligence, if any is stirring, in his special department. His national boundaries reach from the borders of Asia to the eastern extremity of the West Indies, from the lower reaches of the St Lawrence to the arid sands of Southern California. There are forty-five states, five territories and a vast aggregate of outlying islands to hear from. Exciting public issues succeed each other swiftly, and an American may take some part in deciding every one of them. He may speak, or write, or debate as a participant. His ballot counts one, and no ballot counts for more. He is no mere looker-on or keeper of abstractions when poring over a newspaper. He is a part of what occupies his mind.

How to Win.

Self-confidence, when not carried to excess, is a wonderful help to success.

When you begin an undertaking do it with the idea that you are going to succeed.

Don't be fearful that you are doing the wrong thing all the time.

Lack of confidence will only hold you back.

You must run a certain amount of risk in order to succeed.

If you fail the first time, go at it with renewed energy and the determination to win in the long run.

Don't be constantly asking advice and opinions of others. If you feel doubtful of the wisdom of the course you are pursuing, think carefully over all your friends. Select the one to whose common sense you can most rely and consult him. Even if he is not an expert in your line of business he can give you good advices as to whom it would be well to consult.

If you consult everyone you know you will grow so confused that you will not know where you stand. Everyone will have a different theory and the attempt to follow them all you will arrive nowhere.

Once convinced that you are on the right tack, follow it unflinchingly.

There is a best way to do everything if you are fortunate enough to find it.

Never make a change unless you are convinced that you will benefit by it.

Don't underestimate your own powers of Judgment. You are a grown man or woman, and you must have some idea of which is the best course to follow.

Don't be cast down by every bit of adverse criticism you hear.

It is a moral impossibility to please everyone, and though you may be doing exactly the right thing, your neighbor may think you are all wrong.

But perhaps your neighbor may think you are all wrong.

But perhaps your neighbor does not know half so much about it as you do yourself, so don't worry over what he says.

Too much humility is just as tiresome a quality as too much conceit.

You will never succeed unless you learn to step out by yourself and trust to your own common sense, judgment and intuition.

Acknowledge your blunders, but don't talk too much of them.

It will only shake people's confidence in you.

Don't get blue and discouraged over your failure; fight, fight, fight, until you have your feet on the ladder of success, and when you get there hold on for dear life.

Is the Father of Thirty.

Bloomington, Ill., Feb. 15th.—McDonald Hall and his wife have their own private Hall of fame. Mrs. Hall has just given occasion for carving the thirtieth niche in it. This time it is a girl.

The Halls have honored some celebrated characters, historical and contemporaneous, in naming their children. Some of them are George Washington, Thomas Jefferson, Patrick Henry, Victoria Regina Abraham Lincoln, Lucretia Borgia, Victor Emmanuel, Susan B. Anthony, Ulysses Grant, William T. Serman, Philip Sheriden, Cassie Chadwick, Groveland, Benjamin Harrison, William McKinley, Henry Ward Beecher and Shields Blaine.

Mr. Hall is a laboring man, and has older children to help him to feed and cloth their young brothers and sisters.

ST. SWITHIN AND RAIN.

The Legend of the Chapel Over the Bishop's Grave.

The superstitions referring to particular days are very numerous. The legend of St. Swithin is an example that will occur to every one:

St. Swithin's day, if thou dost rain,
For forty days it will remain;
St. Swithin's day, if thou be fair,
For forty days 'twill rain nae mair.

St. Swithin, bishop of Winchester, according to the author of "The Popular Antiquities," was "a man equally noted for uprightness and humility. So far did he carry the latter virtue that on his deathbed he requested to be buried not within the church, but outside the churchyard on the north of the sacred building, where his corpse might receive the eavesdroppings from the roof and his grave be trodden by the feet of passersby. His lowly request was complied with, and in this neglected spot his remains reposed till about 100 years afterward, when a fit of pious indignation seized the clergy at the fact that the body of so holy a member of their order was allowed to occupy such a position, and on an appointed day they all assembled to convey it with great pomp to the adjoining cathedral of Winchester. When they were about to commence the ceremony a heavy rain burst forth and continued without intermission for the forty succeeding days. The monks interpreted this tempest as a warning from heaven of the blasphemous nature of their attempt to contravene the direction of St. Swithin, and instead of disturbing his remains they erected a chapel over his grave." "St. Swithin is christening the apples" is the more poetical way of describing St. Swithin's rain.

The Moon's Phases.

The phases of the moon are caused by its relative position to the earth and the sun, so that when it is full moon in one part of the earth it is full moon in all parts of the earth, and so for all its other phases. The moon revolves around the earth once in twenty-seven days, though on account of the earth's revolution around the sun the mean duration of the lunar month—that is, the time from new moon to new moon—is twenty-nine days, twelve hours and forty-four minutes. The "dark of the moon" is that half of the lunar month during which the moon shines least at night.

BIG FLOATING BARN

Lumbermen Will Take Unique Craft to Camps.

A novel sort of barn has recently been constructed at Beardstown, Ill., for a firm of lumbermen, says a Beardstown special dispatch to the Cincinnati Commercial Tribune.

It is a floating barn, for use in the logging camps, where it always has been a hard matter to provide suitable protection for horses during the cold weather.

It is constructed like a barge and has stalls for twelve horses, room for thirty tons of hay and grain and room for men in charge. The barn can be moved about in the river bottoms where logging camps are located.

Fairest Christmas Gift.

If I were Santa Claus I know
What I would give to every boy
And every little maiden. Oh,
It would not be a painted toy,
It would not be a blushing doll
Nor any sugared thing to eat.
The same gift I would give to all
And deem the giving sweet.

If I were Santa Claus and might
To each child give the gift I chose,
The world would glow with new delight
And lose the darkest of its woes,
For I would give to every boy
And every maiden I could find
The grace to make unbounded joy
Through merely being kind.

Mexican Courtship.

A Mexican girl is courted by a unique process. Her would be lover walks up and down the street on the opposite side and stares at her window by the hour. If his appearance is agreeable she appears at the window after a few days of this performance. When the acquaintance develops he is introduced to her papa, and after the necessary marriage arrangements have been made he is introduced to her. The preliminary tramping and staring are called "doing the bear."

Goethe.

Goethe was pronounced "the handsomest man of Europe." He was a little over six feet in height, but so well proportioned that he did not seem tall. His features were of the Roman type, his hair rather light than dark, his whole appearance commanding. Even to extreme old age he retained a large share of the personal good looks that earlier in life had made him so attractive.

Women Must Weep.

"You look discouraged."

"I am," answered the newly married man. "I have done all in my power to make my wife happy. She can't find anything at home to cry about, so she goes downtown and weeps over the heroine at the matinee."—Washington Star.

A Curious Oath.

The following curious oath was until recent years administered in the courts of the Isle of Man: "By this book, and by the holy contents thereof, and by the wonderful works that God has miraculously wrought in heaven above and in the earth beneath in six days and seven nights, I do swear that I will, without respect of favor or friendship, love or gain, consanguinity or affinity, envy or malice, execute the laws of this isle and between party and party as indifferently as the herring's backbone doth lie in the middle of the fish."

Bellefonte's Centennial.

Bellefonte was incorporated as a borough, March 1806, this 1906, would be its centennial year. Shall it be celebrated? Why not combine its centennial celebration with the dedication of the Curtin-Soldiers' monument, or day after, having thus a two days' affair? Bellefonte, from its early history on, has much to be proud of, especially its personnel—statesmen and warriors. Let us have an expression from our people, at an early date so that proper steps can be taken now for such an event.

Forget Your Lost Battles.

Napoleon the Great on one of his campaigns while walking about the camp one night, as he was accustomed to do to discover how the soldiers were occupied, chanced to come upon a group listening to an excited speaker. Napoleon stole near to listen and found that the man was regaling his companions with an account of battles that Napoleon had lost.

"I had the fellow hanged as a traitor," Napoleon said. "Men do not win battles by the memory of battles lost!"

It was perfectly true. A distinguished military officer affirmed that after troops had been beaten in a battle it took two weeks to get them to fire as well as they had done before. Bad success demoralizes them. If one is continually looking back at the things one has missed in life one loses the power to grip what is yet within reach of one's hands.

Asks Aid for Starving Japs.

Washington, Feb. 15—President Roosevelt took official cognizance of the famine which has grown to such serious proportions in northern Japan. In an appeal to the American people the president says:

The famine situation in northern Japan is proving much more serious than at first supposed, and thousands of persons are on the verge of starvation. It is a calamity such as may occasionally befall any country. Nations, like men, should stand ever ready to aid each other in distress, and I appeal to the American people to help from their abundance their suffering fellow men of the great and friendly nation of Japan. I recommend that contributions for this purpose be sent to the American National Red Cross, which will forward such funds to the Japanese Red Cross to be used as the Japanese government may direct. Contributions can be made to the local Red Cross treasurers or sent direct to Hon. Charles Hallam Keep, Red Cross treasurer, United States treasury department, Washington.

THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

Sound in Principal and Policy.

The proposition that congress shall appropriate money to aid the states in highway construction is sound in principle and patriotic in policy. It is not new, except that the favors of the general government have for many years been turned into other channels. The aid extended to the Pacific railroads, covering hundreds of millions spent on rivers and harbors was all based upon the theory that the government but served its own good when appropriating money, to increase and improve the transportation facilities of the country. That is a sound proposition, and if adhered to by the congress must lead to the early extension of government aid to the states in road improvement. The government rests upon the loyalty of the people. The people sustain it in times of peace and defend it in times of war. The people are the government. Whatever policy will benefit the people becomes a national obligation to be observed by those entrusted with power. Road building is a recognized function of government in every civilized country but ours. No country has ever witnessed systematic road construction except by government aid. Our national experience is ample to justify the declaration that the states of the union will never have systematized road building until the government leads the way in co-operation with the states.

Women as Well as Men Are Made Miserable by Kidney Trouble.

Kidney trouble preys upon the mind, discourages and lessens ambition; beauty, vigor and cheerfulness soon disappear when the kidneys are out of order or diseased.

Kidney trouble has become so prevalent that it is not uncommon for a child to be born afflicted with weak kidneys. If the child urinates too often, if the urine scalds the flesh or if, when the child reaches an age when it should be able to control the passage, it is yet afflicted with bed-wetting, depend upon it, the cause of the difficulty is kidney trouble, and the first step should be towards the treatment of these important organs. This unpleasant trouble is due to a diseased condition of the kidneys and bladder and not to a habit as most people suppose.

Women as well as men are made miserable with kidney and bladder trouble, and both need the same great remedy. The mild and the immediate effect of Swamp-Root is soon realized. It is sold by druggists, in fifty-cent and one dollar sizes. You may have a sample bottle by mail free, also pamphlet telling all about it, including many of the thousands of testimonial letters received from sufferers cured. In writing Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., be sure and mention this paper.

INDIAN'S BRUTALITY.

Sent to Prison for Long Terms for Cruelty to Wife.

Easton, Pa., Feb., 20th.—Edward Bruce, a half-breed Indian, well educated and rich, who married a prominent Easton young woman, was Friday sent to prison for fourteen years, for brutal treatment to his wife, and unprintable charges.

So outrageous was Bruce's treatment to his wife, that the court refused to permit any but the witnesses at the trial

Bruce came from Coupeville, Wash., where his forefathers owned practically the entire district and his grandfather left him the bulk of his vast estate, now thickly populated.

Engineer Dead, Train Dashes Through City.

With throttle wide open and the driving wheels turning under full boiler pressure, on Erie locomotive pulling a fast freight train ran 25 miles Friday morning, passing through the city of Elmira, N. Y., with the engineer, J. H. Lesley of Susquehanna' Pa., hanging dead from the cab window.

While leaning from the window at Corning, N. Y., Leeley's head was struck, probably by a girder of a bridge, and his skull was crushed, causing instant death The locomotive pulled the train through Elmira at a high rate of speed, and when passing the station Lesley's body was seen hanging half out of the cab window.

A telegram was sent to the next station, Wellsburg, to stop the train, but the train passed the order board, and as the caboose passed the station Conductor Sickles saw that the engineer had disregarded a signal.

He ran over the tops of the intervening cars, setting the brakes as he did so, reached the cab, and found the engineer dead. The fireman was unaware that anything was wrong, the locomotive being of the "Mother Hubbard" type.

Almost Torn to Pieces.

In the main street of the village of West Middletown, near Washington, Pa., one day recently, in the presence of a score of residents, Thomas Lowry, 11 years old and the son of a well known citizen, was almost torn to pieces by a pack of dogs. The spectators of the affair refrained from shooting the dogs, fearing to kill the boy. A farmer drove by with a load of hay, and with pitchforks obtained from him residents finially succeeded in driving away the dogs. One of the boy's arms was torn off, his face and neck were chewed almost into a pulp and his hands and feet were frightfully rent. Two of the five dogs were killed before the pack was driven off.

Dr. D. H. Bennis fears hydrophobia if his patient recovers, and will send him at once to the Pasteur institute in Pittsburg.

Calls the Flag "Contemptible Rag."

Macon, Ga., Feb. 19th.—At a negro convention here Bishop H. M. Turner, a negro, declared the American flag to be a "a dirty and contemptible rag," and that "hell was an improvement on the United States when the negro was involved.

CAUGHT BY THE GRIP-- RELEASED BY PE-RU-NA.

"The World of Medicine Recognizes Grip as Epidemic Catarrh."—Medical Talk.

A Southern Judge Cured.

Judge Horatio J. Goss, Hartwell, Ga., writes:

"Some five or six years ago I had a very severe spell of grip which left me with systemic catarrh.

"A friend advised me to try your Peruna, which I did, and was immediately benefited and cured. The third bottle completed the cure."—H. J. Goss.

Cured in a Few Weeks.

Miss Jean Cowgill, Griswold Opera House, Troy, N. Y., is the leading lady with the Aubrey Stock Co. She writes the following:

"During the past winter of 1901, I suffered for several weeks from a severe attack of grip, which left a serious catarrhal condition of the throat and head.

"Some one suggested Peruna. As a last resort, after wasting much time and money on physicians, I tried the remedy faithfully, and in a few weeks was as well as ever."—Jean Cowgill.

Grip Resulted in Catarrh.

Miss Alice Bielke, Treasurer Young Women's Society of the Lutheran Church, Menasha, Wis., writes:

"I gratefully acknowledge the good that Peruna did me after I had been sick with la grippe which left me in a very weak and emaciated condition, with catarrhal trouble of the head and ears.

"My mother suggested that I take it to build up my strength and rid myself of the troublesome catarrh, and it acted with wonderful speed.

"I was able to resume my work inside of two months and I am in splendid health now."—Alice Bielke.

One reason why Peruna has found permanent use in so many homes is that it contains no narcotic of any kind. Peruna is perfectly harmless. It can be used any length of time without acquiring a drug habit. Peruna does not produce temporary results,—it cures.

LaGrippe Is Epidemic Catarrh.

IT spares no class or nationality. The cultured and the ignorant, the aristocrat and the pauper, the masses and the classes are alike subject to la grippe. None are exempt—all are liable.

Grip is well named. The original French term, la grippe, has been shortened by the busy American to read "grip."

Without intending to do so, a new word has been coined that exactly describes the case. As if some hideous giant with awful grip had clutched us in its fatal clasp.

Men, women, children, whole towns and cities are caught in the baneful grip of a terrible monster.

Have you the grip? Or, rather, has the grip got you? If so, read the following letters.

These testimonials speak for themselves as to the efficacy of Peruna in cases of la grippe or its after-effects:

Saved by Pe-ru-na.

Hon. James R. Guill is one of the oldest and most esteemed men of Omaha, Neb. He has done much to make it what it is, serving on public boards a number of times. He endorses Peruna in the following words:

"I am 68 years old, am hale and hearty and Peruna has helped me attain it. Two years ago I had la grippe—my life was despaired of. Peruna saved me."—J. R. Guill.

A Relative of Abraham Lincoln.

Mr. Silas S. Lincoln, who resides at 913 I street, N. W., Washington, D. C., has the honor of being third cousin to Abraham Lincoln. He writes:

"I had la grippe five times before using your medicine. Four years ago I began the use of Peruna, since which time I have not been troubled with that disease.

"I can now do as much work at my desk as I ever could in my life. I have gained more than ten pounds in weight."—S. S. Lincoln.

Pe-ru-na Not Only Cured La Grippe but Benefited the Whole System.

Miss Alice M. Dressler, 1813 N. Bryant Ave., Minneapolis, Minn., writes:

"Last spring I suffered from la grippe and was partially cured, but the bad after-effects remained through the summer and somehow I did not get strong as I was before.

"One of my college friends who was visiting me asked me try Peruna and I did so and found it all and more than I had expected.

"It not only cured me of the catarrh but restored me to perfect health, and built up the entire system."—Alice M. Dressler.

Too Many Toys

"The modern child has entirely too many toys given him. This stunts his resourcefulness and self-dependence. Take away your child's tops and make him learn to amuse himself. Most of the great men of the past were without playthings as boys. Lincoln, lacking toys, would walk eight miles after his day's work was done to borrow a book. Do you think this quality of sturdy self-reliance would ever have been developed if as a child he had had a nursery full of costly tops to break and tire of at his own sweet will It is the mother's duty to help her child by teaching him to help himself.

Thus spoke Mrs. Joseph W. Cochran in her address on "Resourcefulness" before the Mothers' Club, at 1227 Arch street, recently. Continuing Mrs. Cochran said:

"A child's character is forever shaped by the mother's influence and she cannot expend too much time and thought in bringing up her offsprings. A child's mind is like a sponge, it soaks up every thing, and on the mother devolves the development of those little potentialities, which will become good or bad traits when the child grows up. Exercise guidance, but don't let your child know he is being guided. And above all things instill into the child a great ideal with faith to hold it and courage to seek it through his whole life. For a true ideal is the lodestar of our destiny and the splendid glorifier of all our daily work.

DEAR BELLEFONTE.

Of all the cities on the plains
Or cities by the sea,
Thy lofty hills and crystal springs
Are good enough for me.

If I should roam oer Gods green earth,
environments to flee;
Still in the lonely midnight hour,
My heart would long for thee.

And for all sweet memories,
Upon my heart enshrined;
Your streams and drives and scenery,
Around my life entwine.

Let me live within thy gates,
My path with flowers strew
Until the shadows darken and hide the from my view.

"A Word to the Wise is Sufficient."

Our head line is a Latin proverb of very ancient date concerning the highest interests of all in need of a little good counsel in that direction, Heavenward. Of the many gentlemen smokers my humble opinion is that no one of them all would speak a word advising a boy to begin the tobacco habit, much less to entice a young man to take his first glass of intoxicating liquor. These gentlemen, I am sure, will pardon me when I say were it not for their example my precept urging total abstinence on the part of our young people would prevail. What then? In a few years, all the bar-rooms and saloons would close their doors Not one of them would remain open, there being no men to patronize them. Any one can see there would be no further necessity for temperance legislation or political maneuvering on this subject with far less of crime and the burden of taxation lightened. More than all, most of the painful evils of the liquor traffic which now so sorely afflicts the commonwealth would be removed in the easiest possible way.

How many of our boys and young men have the courage to undertake with us this Safeguard Temperance movement openly indicating their decision, "From this time, God helping me, I will make no use of tobacco by smoking or chewing and no use of intoxicating liquor as a beverage before I am twenty-one years of age." Cards are freely furnished for name and age with residence and there is another One who has promised to record the decision in "the Lamb's book of life." My dear boys, be brave to "fight the good fight," against bad habits which are manifestly carrying so many heedless ones down, down forever down. In this warfare against the Evil one, God will help you, even to "be more than conquerors" through Him who is "the Great Captain of our salvation." Certificates of Decision emblematically designed will be ready in a few days and placed in the hands of Sunday school superintendents and General Secretary of Y. M. C. A.

The Garden Free From Weeds.

When that can be said of any body's garden then there will always be an ingathering, more or less of something useful to make life the happier. It is always the aim of our Safeguard Temperance movement to secure these beneficent results. Every consistent abstainer is a good gardener in the service of the Lord, eradicating the weeds found in the way of good culture and fruitfulness.

IV. REASONS SPIRITUAL ABIDING FOREVER.

1st. An extreme case and a sad case it is. I knew a young preacher of the Gospel, was in his study room more than once. He told me that he prepared his sermons under a cigar stimulus, that he never smoked outside where he would be seen doing so. It was easy to see his shattered nervous condition and easy to learn that some of his church members had unmistakably detected his practice from the smell of his Sunday suit shamefully inconsistent with his preaching from the text "Keep thyself pure" and another sermon on the Pauline passage, "Abstain from all appearance of evil."

He soon broke down physically as well as socially, I must not say spiritually, but evidently under a miserably crippled usefulness, if not the threatening of a "fearfully looking for of a judgment to come."

2nd. Whatever weakens the bodily and intellectual powers of young people, whatever impediment there may be to the exercise of a refined social influence, there is, at the same time, a positive hindrance to progression in "godliness which is profitable unto all things, having promise of the life that now is and of that which is to come."

My dear boys, don't begin to use that which is for you worse than useless. If you have begun, it is not too late to stop. We hear it from men, on every hand whenever they express the truth on this subject, saying, "I wish I had never begun the use of tobacco. It costs me more than I ought to waste in that way." We have no words to tell what is the sad, O! how sad! the experience of thousands upon thousands enchained by the drink habit, darkening if not obliterating all the bright prospects that might have been theirs with "peace that passeth knowledge" and "joy unspeakable and full of glory." To every boy and young man, we say, in conclusion as Moses said to Hobab "Come thou with us and we will do thee good."

Cards for names are freely given by calling on General Secretary Meserve in the Y. M. C. A. building. Certificates of Decision, now in preparation by a skillful Artist and friend of our Safeguard cause in New York city, will be received in a few days. Beginning in Bellefonte this temperance movement Deojuvante, will extend far beyond. We have the hearty corperation of Pastors of all the churches in town, likewise that of all the Bible School Superintedente.

It certainly should not be necessary to ask the Professors and teachers of our secular Schools to coperate or to exhort the fathers and mothers for their earnest encouragement in behalf of their sons to take a step forward for their highest benefit in this world and perfect blessedness hereafter forever.

TO THE PUBLIC

Concerning Pianos.

No matter what pretense is made by any firm, from anywhere, for selling Pianos cheap, I will duplicate any instrument offered on the same terms of payment.

We have such noted High Grade makes to select from as the Knabe, Behr Bros. Schomacker, Briggs, Haines Bros., Hobert M. Gable, Brumbach, and all the other Standard makes and we guarantee to furnish the Pianos of your choice at as low cost as you can procured it elsewhere.

Honest Pianos, with honest representation, at honest prices, and terms to suits.

Have you ever received a gold dollar for ½ or ¾ its value?

Don't be deceived when offered a Stencil or a Low Grade Pianos of prices more than its real worth.

Remember there is a lot of Piano Hypocrisy.

A Stencil piano is one which does not bear the name of the maker, is therefore an irregular piano of indefinite origin low grade and misleading.

A word to the wise is sufficient.

They offer you something securing value for a small price and when the victims have all bitten and begin to get uneasy they are gone.

Schemes of this kind fatten upon fatal propensities of people to go away from home to get something for nothing instead of patronaging the home business man who helps makes the town.

WE ARE HERE TO STAY to be responsible to you for every instrument we sell and every promise we make and when our guarantee goes with them you have something, because we are in business right here all the time paying taxes here; rents here, living here, and contributing our share to charities here, so that we ask you in all candor, and justice to us, that if you want to buy a piano let us sell it to you right here.

We carry a complete line of high grade organs, piano case, and cottage styles at bargain prices, on terms to suit.

Second hand and slightly used Upright pianos from $75.00 and upward.

Square pianos in good condition at $35.00, $40.00 and $60.00.

Thanking you for past patronage, we cordially invite you to call and see our display of fine pianos.

JOHN B. STETSON IS DEAD.

Millionaire Hat Manufacturer Dies Suddenly in Florida.

Deland, Fla., Feb. 20.—John B. Stetson, the millionaire hat manufacturer of Philadelphia, died at his winter home in Gillen, near Deland. Mr. Stetson was stricken with apoplixy, and notwithstanding the best medical attention died without regaining consciousness. His wife was the only member of his immediate family present. Mr. Stetson had been feeling quite well until the attack. He attended the Stetson University trustees meeting Thursday and the presentation day exercises at the auditorium Friday.

The family and friends left for Philadelphia with the body. The entire town of Deland is in mourning.

Magnificent Gibson Drawing Free

A series of ten articles on pen and ink drawing, illustrated with pictures by Charles Dana Gibson, is the next announced feature of the Sunday North American. The articles, prepared by experts, will be published in the body of the paper.

The Gibson drawings which illustrate them will be issued in the form of special supplements. Each picture will be printed on fine, heavy paper, in halftone black on a delicate buff background. Each drawing is 10 by 15 inches in size, and is ready for mounting and framing.

There will be ten articles, each carrying a Gibson supplement to illustrate it. The first subject is "The Weaker Sex Under the Microscope." This picture shows Gibson at his best, and contains four heads of typical "Gibson girls."

The demand for the Gibson picture is certain to be unusually strong, and the reader who wants all the picture supplements and articles should subscribe for ten weeks and secure them. The publishers report an advance demand unequaled by that created by the announcement of any special feature.

Mrs. Annie Dougherty.

At 12:05 o'clock Friday morning Mrs. Annie Dougherty, widow of John H. Dougherty, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Emma Claybaugh, 106 Kettle street, Altoona, of diseases incident to old age. She had been in failing health for several months. Deceased was born in Nittany valley, Centre county, on August, 8, 1818, and had resided in Altoona for the past half century. She was a member of the German Baptist church and was held in high esteem by all who shared her acquaintance. She is survived by the following children: John P., of Oil City; Charles, of Philadelphia; William, of Lovett, and Mrs. Emma Claybaugh, of Altoona. The funeral took place Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, services at the house. Interment will be made in Fairview cemetery.

To Leave Bellefonte.—At prayer meeting Wednesday evening Rev. John A. Wood, Jr., announced to the Methodist congregation that he had finally decided to withdraw from the Central Pennsylvania Conference and move to California where he will locate in the neighborhood of Pasadena. Rev. Wood is a Californian by birth and now has two sons in the Golden state so that the move for him will be simply going home, though in the few years he has been a resident of Bellefonte he has so endeared himself not alone to the members of his congregation but to everybody with whom he came in contact, that his going is a matter to be deeply deplored by the people of this community.

BURGLARS AGAIN IN BELLEFONTE.

The Store of Sheffer & Son Entered Sometime Friday Night.

Sometime during Friday night th eyes entered the grocery-store of Sheffer & Son, on North Allegheny street, and relieved the firm of eighteen dollars in cash and some valuable papers as well as helping themselves with five pounds of chewing tobacco, they also took with them a bunch of keys which they found in the desk.

The burglars gained an entrance to the building through a rear cellar door, and got into the store by forcing a small trapdoor in the floor. No clew as to the identity of the thieves has as yet been secured.

State Y. M. C. A. Meets.

Approximately four hundred picked men from the 228 organizations in Pennsylvania will gather tomorrow, Washington's Birthday, at the College town of Washington to attend the Annual State Convention of the Young Men's Christian Associations of Pennsylvania.

Exceptional interest attaches to the first day's progress when, following the Complimentary Supper to be given delegates by the Ladies Auxiliary of Washington, the Annual Reports will be presented by Charles L. Huston, Chairman, and James B. Bailey, Treasurer of the State Committee.

At the evening session, addresses will be delivered by Thomas S. McPheeters of St. Louis, Missouri, and Hon. Henry H. Hinckley of Danville.

Prof. Hamlin E. Cogswell of the Edinboro State Normal School will have charge of the music which will be a prominent feature of the Convention progress.

The Convention continues until Sunday night when six mass meetings will be held simultaneouslo.

—Nearly fifty baseball players at State College are in line for the regular varsity nine, which will soon be selected. Manager Jim Sebring, of the Williamsport Tri-State club, will go to State College this week and give the men their first work in the preliminary field. It is the intention to take the team south, leaving the college on March 28. The men who are desirous of making the team are all good material. However, it is well to remember that last June by graduation were lost three splendid 'varsity men—Ray, Forkum and Yoder—all of whom possessed both the experience and ability that can scarcely be replaced from among the present list of diamond aspirants.

Fruit Punch.

Make a syrup by boiling a pound of sugar with a cup of water for ten minutes. Have ready in the punch bowl the juice of five oranges and four lemons, one orange sliced thin, a can of shredded pineappl , a cupful of freshly brewed tea infusion. Pour the syrup over the mixture and let it stand until cool; then add a cup of Maraschino cherries, two sliced bananas, a cup of California grapes, cut in halves and seeded, a quart of mineral water and cold water enough to make six quarts of liquid in all. Serve with ice in a punch bowl, wreathed with holly.

Deitrick Says Accident.

Peter Deitrick, charged with the murder of James Jones, of Danville, insists that the shot was an accident and manifests the deepest sorrow. He says that such a thing as shooting Jones whom he regarded as his friend. never entered his mind and that the pistol in his hand was discharged in some unaccountable manner. The case will be tried in May.

Death of Mrs. Richard Campbell

Mrs. Richard Campbell died on Feb. 6 at the home of her daughter Mrs. D. M. Burlien and was buried on Thursday, the 8th. The services were conducted at the Baptist church by the Rev. Piper of the Milesburg Methodist church, assisted by Rev. Dudley of the Disciple church, and she was laid to rest in the Baptist cemetery besides her husband who preceded her to the grave four years ago. Mother Campbell was 79 years of age and was the mother of 15 children, 10 of whom she raised as follows: W. R. Campbell, of Milesburg; Mrs. Susan Kunes, McKeesport; E. H. Campbell, of Sharon; Mrs. D. M. Burlien, Eagleville; Willis, George and Thomas of McKeesport; Mrs. E E Winslow, of Johnsonburg; John of Blanchard and one daughter Mrs. Maggie Jones who died 4 years ago. She was a life long member of the Methodist church, was a kind christian mother and was fondly loved by all her children who will greatly miss her presence in the coming years, but who will think of her as not dead, but only gone before to the many mansions prepared for the faithful. The pall bearers were: Mr. J. A. Quigley, Daniel Kunes, Wm. Kunes, Michael Frevel, W. I. Harter, James Lingle.

—The Presbyterian congregation will be favored on next Sunday morning and evening, by hearing the Rev. Robert Bonner Jack of Hazelton Pennsylvania. Many of our older church goers particularly, will remember the father of Mr. Jack, formerly pastor of the Presbyterirn Church of Danville Pa., who preached on a Sabbath, in the Presbyterian church here, a number of years ago, to the delight of those who heard him. The son succeeded the father some years later as pastor of the Hazelton Presbyterian church, and is said to be in many respects very similar to him. He will be entertained by Col and Mrs. Coburn, and Mrs. Rogers. Doctor Coburn Rogers, son of Mrs. Rogers, who still resides at Hazelton, is a member of Mr. Jack's congregation.

AN INTERESTING STATEMENT.

C. M. Parrish Says He Has at Last Discovered a Positive Cure for Indigestion.

"For years," said the above druggist "we have been waiting for some one to discover a remedy that really will cure dyspepsia.

"I recently learned that a new remedy, Pepsikola Tablets, had been placed on the market, and on investigation I found that at last there is a remedy that surely will come.

"I laid in a big supply because I knew that as soon as the people began to know about this remarkable remedy there would be a big demand for it, and it is selling beyond my expectations."

It is not often a druggist sells a new remedy on a positive guarantee, but unless cured of nervousness, dizzy spells, sour stomach, coated tongue, palpitation and other symptoms of dyspepsia, Mr. Parrish will hand back your money cheerfully and without argument.

No one should hesitate on trying a 25-cent box of Pepsikola Tablets, as they will not cost you a penny should they fail to relieve and cure the very worst case of indigestion and dyspepsia.

Forget Yourself.

Forget yourself. You will never do anything great until you do. Self-consciousness is a disease with many. No matter what they do, they can never get away from themselves. They become warped upon the subject of self-analysis, wondering how they look, how they appear, what others will think of them, how they can enhance their own interests. In other words, every thought and every effort seems to focus upon self; nothing radiates from them.

No one can grow while his thoughts are self-centred. The sympathies of the man who thinks only of himself are soon dried up. Self-consciousness acts as a paralysis to all expansion, strangles enlargement, kills aspiration, cripples executive ability. The mind which accomplishes things looks out, not in; it is focused upon its object, not upon itself.

The immortal acts have been unconsciously performed. The greatest prayers have been the silent longings, the secret yearnings of the heart, not those which have been delivered facing a critical audience. The daily desire is the perpetual prayer, the prayer that is heard and answered.—Success.

What Woman Wants.

To love.
To be loved.
To be told so sometimes.
To have something to do.
To be dealt with sincerely.
To be praised once in awhile.
To have her judgment respected.
To be sympathetically understood.
To have a great, big-hearted boss who will let her have her own way.

What the Oppenheimer Treatment for Alcoholism Can do.

The Oppenheimer treatment for alcoholism absolutely removes the craving for alcoholic stimulants, generally in from six to twenty-four hours; in extreme cases in forty-eight hours. In from three to five days the patient is eating and sleeping normally; in from two to four weeks the patient is fully restored to his normal condition. The general bodily functions are regulated and the whole nervous system is generally strengthened, without any bad after effects. The alcoholic craving of itself will never return; it can come back only through deliberate, voluntary indulgence. If such should be the case, the treatment can be taken again with perfect safety. The only thing that this treatment can do for any patient is to restore him to a normal condition, i. e., to actual bodily health, where he will have no physical craving for stimulants.

OPPOSED TO THE VACCINATION LAW

County Superintendents Unanimously Endorse Resolutions Condemning Compulsory Inoculation.

Resolutions in opposition to the enforcement of the vaccination law as applied to the children in public schools received the unanimous endorsement of the county school superintendents of Pennsylvania at their third annual meeting, which was held in Harrisburg last week.

The resolutions were presented by County Superintendent Dell, of Huntingdon, who is chairman of the resolutions committee. Their endorsement without opposition is an action without precedent in the history of this branch of the state's organized educators and the emphatic declaration of principles on this much mooted question will in all probability be the means of settling it one way or the other. The resolutions recited at length the grounds for the position taken. In substance they are as follows :—

"Resolved, That the vaccination law has alienated the feeling between the parents and the teachers with the result that many children have been kept away from school and deprived of the privilege of gaining an education.

"In order to relieve this condition in the rural schools, this committee recommends that the teachers be relieved from enforcing this law and that the state legislature and the superintendent of public instructions. Dr. Schaeffer be asked to indorse this measure.

Governor Pennypacker, who addressed the superintendents, entertained a different view of the matter. He discussed that stand that some of the districts of the state have taken against vaccination and said that the commonwealth had seen fit to make these laws for the protection of her citizens. He enlisted the co-operation of all the teachers of the state in this matter.

Another feature of the meeting was the speech made by Superintendent Geo. A. Grim, of Northampton county in which he declared that "the education of our children is often neglected by the methods used by corrupt book agents, who frequently bribe the school authorities to further their own ends."

Mr. Grim also advocated prolonging the period of use of the text book. "There are by far too many books and too many studies in our public schools today, and thoroughness is thereby made impossible," he said. He suggested the discussion of the question, "Shall the State Print Our Books?"

True Politeness.

The secret of all good manners is unselfishness. Those who live a life of service for their fellow men have no trouble about their manners. Women must themselves set the example of courtesy to each other if they wish men to treat them courteously. The specious arguments, "It is healthful," Doctor's orders," and kindred excuses employed by followers of fads to justify their bad habits and manners are two transparent to have any weight with sensible people says Women's Life.

True politeness springs from a kindly heart. The polish that is acquired from education is but a veneer, and cannot well stand the wear and tear of life. No amount of education in courtesy, either at home or in school, will enable the average person to bear patiently the unjust criticism or the disagreeable remark.

Only the patience of a kindly spirit can do that.

Impure Food Crusade has Wiped Out Fraud.

"Reports from the chemists of my division," said Dairy and Food Commissioner Warren, at Harrisburg, "show that the percentage of impure food samples now being collected by the agents is less than seven. I consider this remarkably encouraging.

"When I assumed office in the spring of 1903 report after report was coming in from the laboratory, all showing that about 80 per cent of the samples taken were adulterated or preserved in such a way as to come under the law.

"Some of the more than 70 per cent decrease of which I have spoken is undoubtedly due to the fact that we no longer operate among the liquor dealers, but the greater part of this decrease is due to the vigilant work which has frightened the dealers into compliance with the law."

At the close of business for the month of January Commissioner Warren turned into the state treasury $27,086.59 of which about $22,000 was for licenses to sell oleomargarine and renovated butter.

CAMELS OUTDONE.

Creatures That Go For Extended Periods Without Drinking.

Other creatures than the camel are able to get along for extended periods without drinking. Sheep in the southwestern deserts go for forty to sixty days in winter without drink, grazing on the green, succulent vegetation of that season. Peccaries in the desert of Sonora live in little dry hills where there is no natural water for long periods. They cannot possibly find water—in fact, for months at a time. The only moisture they can obtain comes from roots and the fruits of cacti, but the most extraordinary case is that of the pocket mouse, one of the common rodents of the desert. This little creature, by the way, has a genuine fur lined "pocket" on the outside of its cheek. When it is hungry it takes food from this pocket with its paw, just as a man would pull a ham sandwich from his pocket. One of these mice has been kept for three years with no other food than the mixed bird seed of commerce. During this period it had not a taste of either water or green food. Other experimenters have found, in fact, that these mice in captivity refuse such treats, not seeming to know that water is good to drink. The bird seed put before this mouse contained not more than 10 per cent of moisture, which is less than is necessary for digestion. Stuff so dry as this cannot even be swallowed until it is moistened by saliva. Yet this remarkable mouse gave nothing but his time to the interests of science. He suffered nothing in health or spirits during his captivity.—Brooklyn Eagle.

SYMPATHETIC LISTENERS

The Help They May Afford to Slow and Indifferent Talkers.

At no time more than when a thought is struggling toward expression should a friend bear with a friend's infirmities. A deep sympathy should be poured out with lavish affection about the one who is seriously striving to say some real thing. In this atmosphere of patient, sympathetic intelligence the inept word, the crude phrase, the wholly inadequate expression will be enabled to do their work, and the thought transference will be effected; the thought will be safely lodged in the mind of the other, slightly bruised in transit, but intact and intelligible. With an "I know what you mean," "Exactly," or "Go on; I understand," much help may be rendered, and at last when the thinker of the thought has placed his friend in possession and by reason of this effort has entered into fuller possession of it himself, the conversation is in a way to begin. Then lavish upon the elaboration of the thought all the beauties that can be woven out of words—precision, balance, music—but let us, dear lovers of language, remember to be discreetly gentle and listen with averted glance while the thought is still in negligee.—Atlantic.

The Cellars of Bordeaux.

The cobwebs will seem to an impressionable visitor the noblest things in the Bordeaux cellars. Some of them look like thick pile curtains, somber in hue, of course, but famously suggestive of warmth. And with even only a moderate imagination one may go to and fro among the barrels fancying the pendent shapes overhead are dusky stalactites instead of the airy next to nothing as they really are. If you hold your candle high enough you may shrivel a few yards of the fabric. But that were truly a shocking deed of vandalism, for, though no layman can understand why this dismal tapestry is reverenced as it is, his ignorance will not be held sufficient excuse for his crime.—Chambers' Journal.

Marriage by Proxy.

In Holland, says a Scotch paper, marriage by proxy is allowed. This is the so called "marriage by the glove" and is usually put in practice by a Dutchman who is sojourning abroad and, wanting a wife, is too poor or too far off to return home for one. In such a case he writes home to a lawyer, who selects one conformable to the requirements of his client. If the gentleman approves he next sends the lawyer a soiled left hand glove and a power of attorney, which settles the business. A friend marries the woman by proxy, and she is thereafter promptly shipped off to her new home.

Thackeray's Apology.

Thackeray once wrote in a note to a friend, alluding to an incident occasioned by one of his articles in Punch: "I thought over the confounded matter in the railroad and wrote instantly on arriving here a letter of contrition and apology to Henry Taylor for having made what I see now was a flippant and offensive allusion to Mrs. Taylor. I am glad I have done it. I am glad that so many people whom I have been thinking bigoted and unfair and unjust toward me have been right and that I have been wrong, and my mind is an immense deal easier."

A Great Idea.

"My new play is sure to make a hit," said the great actress. "It gives me an opportunity to display twenty new gowns."

"Gracious!" exclaimed her friend. "How many acts?"

"Only four, but in one of them the scene's at a dressmaker's."—Philadelphia Press.

Talents.

As to the great and commanding talents, they are the gift of Providence in some way unknown to us. They rise where they are least expected. They fail when everything seems disposed to produce them, or at least to call them forth. Burke.

Advice to Boys.

Don't carry your hands in your pockets, boys. Many of you indulge in this practice. Like some other bad habits, carrying the hands in the pockets is worse for boys than for men, as it tends to "hunch up" the figure. The cartilages and soft bones of a growing boy may be permanently affected by the formation of this habit, for "as the twig is bent the tree inclines." To prevent men from wearing their hands in their pockets, they should be "taught young." It would be well for parents and instructors of youth to turn their attention to the desirability of breaking up the habit of carrying the hands in the pocket.

"More haste, less speed," and haste slowly," are proverbs born of experience that some things can't be hurried without loss and waste. That is specially true of eating. The railway lunch habit, "five minute for refreshment," is a habit most disastrous to the health. You may hurry your eating You can't hurry your indigestion, and the neglect to allow proper time for this impotant function is the begining of sorrows to many a busy man. When the tongue is foul, the head aches, when there sour of bitter risings, undue fullness after eating, hot flushes, irritability, nervousness, irresolution, cold extremities, and other annoying symptoms, be sure the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition have "broken down." Nothing will re establish them in active healthy operation so quickly as Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery It strengthens the stomach, nourishes the nerves, purifies the bloop, and build, up the body. CALIFORNIA

Do you want to live where the climate is mild the year round—where labor is never oppressed by stress of weather, and where animal vitality is never lost by mere conflict with cold?

Do you want to live in a region where the resources are more varied than in any other equal area in the world, where the division of great ranches affords a fine opportunity to get a small farm that will assure you a competence?

Do you want to live where, with a minimum of labor, you can grow profitable crops of grapes and small fruit, oranges, lemons, olives, prunes and almonds, alfalfa and grain, where crops are sure, business is good and capital easily finds profitable investment?

Then go to California, where both health and opportunity await your coming.

The Chicago, Union Pacific and North-Western Line is the most direct route to the Pacific Coast, and there are two fast through trains daily via this line, over the famous double-track railway between Chicago and the Missouri River.

Special low round-trip rates are in effect via this line throughout the summer to various Pacific Coast points, and colonist low rate one-way tickets will be on sale during September and October, which give an unusual chance for settlers to make the trip at a minimum of expense.

Daily and personally conducted excursions are operated through to San Francisco, Los Angeles, and Portland without change, on which a double berth in a Pullman tourist sleeping car from Chicago costs only $7.00, via the

POLITICAL

Bigelow's Attack on Canal.

In a special illustrated article for the Independent Poultney Bigelow sharply criticises the existing management of the Panama project. He says that the Jamaican negroes were returning by the hundreds because of unsuitable places to live and payment of wages in silver. He describes the sanitary condition of Colon and of the workmen's quarters as intolerable for want of drainage and cleaning. He asserts that Secretary Taft did not personally inspect the quarters, but trusted to official sources of information.

Poultney Bigelow.

In a letter written by Secretary Taft to the president the Bigelow statements are taken up one by one for refutation. One of Taft's principal points is that Bigelow was on the isthmus only twenty-nine hours, between the arrival and sailing of his vessel, and that he could not have qualified himself in that time, first hand, for any reliable criticisms of the great engineering project. The secretary says further that he recognizes Bigelow's principal informants as two men who have not got what they wanted out of the canal commission. As to the charge that the negroes were paid only half what they were promised, he says it is untrue and that, so far from leaving the isthmus, the working force has been increased to 17,000. Most of Bigelow's article Taft characterizes as misrepresentation. He admits that the expense of transportation for women to the isthmus was paid, but declares that they were members of the families of the laborers.

The senate committee on interoceanic canals issued a summons for Mr. Bigelow to appear as a witness concerning conditions on the isthmus.

Governor Pattison Inaugurated.

When John M. Pattison was inaugurated as governor of Ohio at Columbus, on account of illness he employed the novel device of a glass cage and foot warmers while reviewing the inaugural procession. A movement has been started to change the inauguration date to the first Monday in April.

For Direct Senatorial Elections.

Leader Williams of the house minority has issued a signed statement favoring the election of senators by popular vote in their respective states. Mr. Williams expects to be a candidate for the senate from the state of Mississippi, where the party primary system amounts virtually to a popular election.

Mississippi's Anti-lobby Bill.

The anti-lobby law passed recently by the Mississippi house of representatives defines "lobbyist" as all paid representatives of individual or private corporations created for profit which have special interests involved in legislation. These are prohibited from discussing any measure in committee or open session until they have filed credentials showing who employed them, on penalty of imprisonment and permanent exclusion from the legislature.

Overstreet Over the Traces.

Owing to his intense dissatisfaction with the president's distribution of offices in Indiana and particularly with the proposed appointment of L. C. Rothschild as surveyor of the port of Indianapolis, Representative Overstreet of the Seventh Indiana district announced that he would resign as secretary of the Republican congressional committee and indicated that he would refuse to stand for re-election to congress. Mr. Rothschild is the former law partner of Senator Beveridge and at present assistant attorney general of Indiana. His appointment to the surveyorship is to be made on request of the senator in spite of Mr. Overstreet's recommendation of another man. For several years it has been customary to fill this Indianapolis place on recommendation of the member of congress from that district.

A Little Vacation.

Conditions are changing in so many businesses that it would not be strange if the manufacturer had yet to plead for protection against the girl in her teens.

A young girl appeared at a large hat manufactory one Monday morning and asked for work. She was inexperienced, but they needed help badly, engaged her at once and took the time to teach her one department of the work.

She learned easily and very quickly, earned something the first day and in two days was making as much as any other girl in the room. They noticed that she seemed to enjoy the work and the prospect of good wages and were greatly surprised when she appeared at the office Friday night and desired to "settle up," saying that she was through work.

The manager asked if anything disagreeable had happened.

"Oh, no," the girl replied airily. "It's a real nice place to work, but I was only visiting in the city for a few days and thought I might make a little money. I'm going home tomorrow morning."—Youth's Companion.

RULES FOR LENT.

Regulations Announced for Penitential Season by Bishop Garvey.

The Lenton season, the period of sackcloth and ashes, will begin early this year. Ash Wednesday falling on Feb. 28th. The regulations for Lent have been completed by Rt. Rev. Eugene A. Garvey, bishop of Altoona diocese, and will be announced shortly in an official letter. Some concessions in regard to fasting and obstaining from meat are granted to working people who are admonished to perform other works of penance. The regulations are as follows:

All the faithful who have completed their 21st year, unless legitimately dispensed, are bound to observe the fast of Lent. They are to make only one full meal a day. The meal allowed on fast days is not to be taken until about noon.

A small refreshment, commonly called collation is allow in the evening. No general rule as to the quantity of food permitted at this time is or can be made, but the practice of most regular Christians is never to let it exceed the fourth part of an ordinary meal.

By virtue of an indult by the Holy See, the following concessions in Lent were granted temporarily:

In the morning a piece of bread not exceeding two ounces, with a drink of coffee, tea, or chocolate, or any similar beverage, can be taken.

When the principal meal cannot be taken about noon, it is lawful to invert the order, by taking the collation in the morning and dinner in the evening. In preparing food that is permitted lard or fat may be used.

Persons dispensed from the obligations of fasting are not bound by the restriction of using meat only at one meal on days on which its use is granted by dispensation. Those who are obliged to fast are permitted the use of meat only at one meal.

The following persons are exempt from the obligation of fasting. Young persons under 21 years of age, the sick and those whose physical condition would be greatly impaired by fasting.

By dispensation, the use of flesh meat will be allowed at all meals on Sundays, and once a day on Mondays, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, with the exception of the Saturday in Ember week and the last Saturday of Lent. The use of butter, cheese, milk and eggs is also permitted every day in Lent. The use of flesh meat and fish at the same meal on any day even on Sundays is forbidden.

The praiseworthy custom of abstaining from intoxicating drink in honor of the Sacred Thirst of Our Lord, so warmly recommended by the sovereign pontiff, is suggested to the piety of the faithful of the diocese as a means of penance and merit during the holy season of Lent.

By virtue of an indult of the Holy See, working people are permitted for a term of years, the use of flesh meat on all days of fast and abstinence throughout the year excepting Fridays, Ash Wednesday, the Wednesday and Saturday of Holy Week and the Vigil of Christmas. However, it is forbidden to use flesh meat and fish at the same meal.

The concession is made not only to the working people themselves, but also to their families, and hence each member of the family may enjoy the same privilege.

On fast days the working people who are not exempt from the law of the fast on account of hard labor may use meat only at the principal meal on the day when its use is allowed.

Those who make use of the above indult are admonished to perform other weeks of penance in place of the abstinence from which they are released.

Millions of Trout Fry are Wanted by State Fishermen.

Superintendents of the state fish hatcheries held a semi-annual conference with Commissioner Meehan, at the department of fisheries Harrisburg Tuesday, all being present. The general situation of fish culture in Pennsylvania was discussed, each man detailing to his colleagues the methods which he has found most suitable for the work and warning them against making the same mistakes he has made.

According to reports of the men, the number of trout at the hatcheries at present is 9,600,000 of which 700,000 are held in reserve for breeding purposes. The applications for trout fry number 3,370, not counting those for trout for the state forestry reserves. The department will be able to apportion 1,500 trout to each application. These applications are from every county except Beaver, Green and Washington. The greatest number of applications come from Centre, 231; Monroe is a close second with 204. The trout to be sent to forestry reserves number 900,000.

FOREIGN

New President of France.

Clement Armand Fallieres was elected Jan. 17 as president of the French republic to succeed Loubet, being chosen on the first ballot taken by the senate and chamber of deputies in joint session in the famous Salle du Congress at Versailles. M. Fallieres received 449 votes, while Paul Doumer, president of the chamber, received 371 votes. M. Fallieres was president of the senate. A novel feature of the election was the transformation of the palace yard into a garage, which was occupied by hundreds of automobiles. M. Fallieres himself presided over the gathering. He was the choice of the Progressive Republicans. He was born in 1841 as the son of a magistrate's clerk and the grandson of a blacksmith. He became a country lawyer, and from that was elected to the chamber, after which he rose rapidly into prominence. He now owns large estates and entertains elaborately.

Clement Armand Fallieres.

English Liberals Victorious.

From the very beginning the course of the parliamentary elections in England indicated a landslide in favor of the Liberal party and the complete rout of the Unionists. The extent of the overturn caused much surprise. A most interesting feature is the rise of a distinct labor section of the electorate. John Burns, the Labor member who recently entered the Bannerman cabinet, was returned with a majority increased from 264 to 1,600. Early in the contest ex-Premier Balfour lost his seat. The London Times says that the upheaval is neither an expression of admiration for Liberal statesmanship nor a condemnation of Balfour's policy, but is in reality an evidence that the working classes propose to have a hand in deciding future party issues.

In Birmingham the tariff reform policy triumphed, all seven seats being carried by Unionists, and Chamberlain himself being returned with an increased majority. Already the number of Labor members was more than thirty, many of whom have been actual laborers.

Moroccan Conference Started.

At Algeciras, Spain, Jan. 16, the long anticipated Moroccan conference was begun, and, on motion of the German ambassador, the Duke of Almodovar was unanimously chosen president. In his opening speech the duke said that the powers were unanimous in desiring order, peace and prosperity for Morocco and in favor of respecting the integrity of the empire, the sovereignty of the sultan and the maintenance of the open door. This triple principle was agreed upon by the delegates present as the basis of reforms, much to the delight of the Moorish delegate. The conference is held behind closed doors, and only official summaries are given to the press.

France Expels Venezeulan.

M. Maubourguet, the Venezuelan charge d'affaires at Paris, received his passports from the French government Jan. 18 and left at once for the frontier, going to Liege, Belgium. Preparations were at once made for a naval demonstration against Venezuela.

Finnish Women to Vote.

The commission appointed by the senate of Finland to project a reform of the diet has agreed upon the principle of a unicameral body to be elected by universal suffrage, both men and women over twenty-one years of age to vote. This body will replace the ancient diet composed of the four estates—the nobles, the clergy, the burghers and the peasants—the only survival of the ancient form of parliamentary organization now existing.

German Care of Landscapes.

Most German states have laws to prevent the disfigurement of landscapes by advertisements. The district authorities are authorized to determine what landscapes, buildings or monuments of historical or artistic value should be protected. Violations of the statute are made punishable by fine, with or without imprisonment. The statute provides against the display of pictures, advertisements or other things calculated to mar or disfigure any especially attractive landscape or detract from the artistic or aesthetic effect of any building or other structure of ... cial importance or as highly prejudicial to any street or part of a city. The alteration of buildings of historical or artistic value may be prohibited by the local authorities, as may the construction of other buildings calculated to interfere with such historical monuments.

Japan's Pipe Bell.

There is a bell in Tokyo, Japan, which is made from tobacco pipes. So says the legend inscribed around the outside in four languages, English, French, German and Japanese.

The English version runs as follows: "This bell, cast in the city of Tokyo, Japan, Dec. 10, 1892, by Tsuda Sen, is made from the metal of tobacco pipes of more than a thousand men, once slaves, now free men."

The story is that in 1892 a woman missionary from America waged war on tobacco smoking and persuaded over a thousand men to forswear the habit. They therefore had no further use for their metal pipes, which were melted down and cast in the form of a bell. The metal resembles bronze, and the bell has a pleasant musical ring.

Death of Miss Margaret Callahan.

The announcement of the death of Miss Margaret A. Callahan, which occurred at McGirk's Sanitarium, Philipsburg, Thursday about 5 o'clock, of hemorrhages, was a very great shock to her many friends and has cast a deep gloom over the entire community. The shock was the greater because of the fact that very few knew that she was in ill health, and had only entered the sanitarium the evening before.

The deceased was aged about 26 years and was the only surviving daughter of Wharton Callahan. She was a young lady whose noble qualities greatly endeared her to a large circle of friends. Several years ago she identified herself with M. E. church, and has lived a quiet, unassuming christian life. Besides her father, she leaves to mourn her sad death three brothers, viz: William C., Philipsburg; Lot W., of Sandy Ridge, and Charles, of Carrolltown.

The funeral took place on Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock from the family residence on the corner of Second and Beaver street.

Noah H. Swayne 2nd to Leave Bellefonte.

Noah H. Swayne 2nd, for nineteen month president and general manager of the Nittany Iron Co., in this place expects to leave on April 1st, to make Philadelphia his future home. Had this simple announcement, that was made Wednesday evening, been a clap of thunder from a clear sky it could not have occasioned more surprise, concern and disappointment than it did.

Mr. Swayne came here as an entire stranger in July, 1904, to take charge of the Nittany furnace, which was then in desperate financial straits. The fact that today the great industry is one of the most stable in our community is mute evidence of his business sagacity. In addition he has been one of the principal organizers and promoters of the new Whiterock enterprises that promise to become another industry of the proportions of the American.

But aside from his business endeavors that have contributed so largely to the prosperity of the community, Mr. Swayne has another side that gives a sentimental turn to public regret at his leaving. He has been conspicuous in many of the church and charitable entertainments where his magnificent voice has always been a feature; he has taken the part of an honest and thoughtful citizen in displaying a certain activity in local and general politics and he has proven a decidedly clever and congenial gentleman socially. Then Mrs. Swayne with her marked literary inclinations and her efforts towards organizing a Woman's Club in Bellefonte just embryonic, will go at a time when her residence is most needed. She has brought honor to Bellefonte by publishing her "Visionary and Other Poems" during her short stay here.

Altogether the Swaynes are people we can ill afford to lose and we will part with them with exceeding regret.

Mr. Swayne's leaving will make no change in the management of Nittany, since he will retain the presidency and manage it from his Philadelphia office, though more responsibility will fall upon Treasurer W. W. Waddle, who will resume the local management of the business and be assisted by Superintendent Grimm. It is Mr. Swayne's present expectation to be here once every week or ten days and that being the case he will probably find it possible to retain the presidency of Whiterock also. It is needless to say that it took a very great financial inducement to decide him to make the change.

James Bland Dead.

Mr. James Bland, a well known and respected citizen of Centre county, died at the home of his son William, in Howard township Tuesday evening of paralysis.

He was aged about 64 year, and is survived by the following children: Jerry, William, Craton, Robert, Ellie and Mollie.

The funeral was held Thursday afternoon. Services in the United Evangelical church, conducted by Rev. J. F. Shultz Interment in the Howard cemetery.

Five $10,000 Valentines.

New York, Feb. 19th.—Five valentines worth $10,000 each at any bank in the country—$50.000 in tokens—were sent through the mail last Wednesday by Peter Wyckoff, the Brooklyn millionaire farmer. The institutions which received the checks were glad to get them of course. Mr. Wyckoff admitted that he sent the checks and that they were good; but the managers of some of the beneficiary institutions were convinced that the orders to pay were not comic valentines.

Spangler—Reifsnyder.

On Tuesday morning, February 6, a the United Evangelical parsonage, No. 1622, Willington street, Philadelphia, Jonathan Spangler and Mrs. Mary M. Reifsnyder, both of Rebersburg, were united in marriage by Rev. D. D. Medley Mr. and Mrs. Spangler returned to Rebersburg last Thursday, which place they will make their future home.

Death of J. W. Daughenbaugh.

On February 9, at about 6 a. m. the angle of death entered the Daughenbaugh home in Howard and took hence the spirit of the father and husband.

Mr. Daughenbaugh was born at Fishing Creek, Feb. 27, 1847, making him 58 years, 11 months and 12 days of age at the time of his death. He has been a resident of Howard township for over 30 years and was one who had many friends all of whom were pained to bear of his death and long suffering with consumption.

He was married in 1869 to Miss Alice Robinson, and to this union five children were born, who with his wife survive, as follows: Percy, Frank, Robert, Mrs. Norman G. Meyer, of Bellefonte; and Chester, at home, also the following brother and sisters: Thomas, Sarah and Mrs. Wm. Bland.

He was a consistent member of the M. E. church, and was always found at his place when able, a good christian man who will be greatly missed in the community.

The funeral took place Sunday afternoon. Services were held in the M. E. church at Roland, conducted by Rev. E. M. Aller. Interment in the Curtin cemetery.

He left Centre county in the eighties and went to Altoona where he worked as a pattern maker in the P. R. R. shops. From Altoona he went to Chicago where he lived during 1892-93, making a home for his eldest daughter who was a practising physician in that city, taking in the World's Fair and working at his trade in the Pullman shops near there. Since the strike some ten years ago he made his home among his children. He was married to Miss Henrietta Kelley, a sister of Mrs. Theresa Tate, of near Bellefonte, who survives with the following children; Mrs. Edward N. Criley, of New York; Lena, wife of Rev. F. B. Heifert, of Bryon, Ohio; Mrs. Charles Curtis, St. Louis, Mo., and Miss Marie, of New York. He also leaves one brother and two sisters, Edward Straub of near Bellefonte,; Mrs. Daniel Weaver, of Penn Cave, and Mrs. Jacob Miller, of Bellefonte.
